Key Points

Connect to God's truth by sharing...

- We often need others to help us stay focused on the right path. Hebrews shows us some ways we can help one another follow Jesus.
- We encourage one another. Sin is deceitful and not always obvious. That's why we need each other to stay alert, resist temptation, and keep following Jesus faithfully.
- We hold to our conviction together. The world can shake our faith and make us think this life is all there is. But God has a purpose for us that goes beyond this life.
- We enter into His rest together. The Israelites who did not trust God missed out on entering the Promised Land. Today, Jesus is our mediator, and we enter God's rest together by holding firmly to Him.
- As we follow Jesus in community, we grow in faithfulness and stay anchored in His rest.

Discuss Together (pick at least one)

- Share a time when someone encouraged you in your faith and it helped you keep trusting God.
- When do you find it hardest to stay focused or consistent in your walk with God?
- Why do you think God designed faith to be lived out in community instead of alone? What's one example that you see today?
- What is one way you can intentionally encourage someone to stay anchored in Jesus this week?
